PRESIDENT'S REPORT

It is with a heart full of gratitude and joy that I stand before you today to celebrate one of the most important milestones in the lives of our students. Graduation is not just a ceremony. It is a story, a story of long nights, early mornings, sacrifices made, challenges overcome, and dreams kept alive even when the journey felt uncertain.

To our graduands, today you wear your gowns and caps not just as a tradition, but as a symbol of your resilience, your determination, and your refusal to give up.

Distinguished Ladies and Gentlemen, today's ceremony which is under the theme "25 years on: Advancing knowledge across discipline, impact across communities" is particularly historic.

The theme for today's ceremony could not have been more apt. Indeed, no major human problem sits neatly inside one subject or discipline, hence the need for advancing across disciplines. This means "Breaking silos" among disciplines, integrating methods, pushing boundaries to create new space among fields of study. The ultimate goal is to deepen and widen knowledge for the benefit of society.

Mr. Chairman, knowledge that stays in journals and conference rooms does not change lives. Impact happens when research, teaching, and innovation reach the people who need them. Thus, impacting across communities means translating knowledge, research into action; turning findings into tools, policies, programs, and practices people can use.

It also means working with, not on, communities. Co-creating solutions with local leaders and organizations, not just studying but implementing solutions that work in communities and organizations and adapting them for others without losing context.

Ladies and gentlemen, the two, advancing knowledge across disciplines and impacting across communities must go together because of two reasons:

i. Knowledge without impact is incomplete. Impact without knowledge is accidental and hard to replicate;
ii. When you advance knowledge across disciplines, you get better solutions; and,
iii. When you take those solutions to communities, you get better questions for the next cycle of research.

That's the loop around which Wisconsin International University College revolves.

Ladies and gentlemen, this year's graduation is historic because it came with a first-ever double or mid-year (June/November) graduation ceremony to be organized by the University. This dual graduation arrangement has been necessitated by the remarkable growth in our student population and the increasing number of graduates we produce each year.

About a decade ago, Wisconsin graduated fewer than 600 students annually. Today, we are proud to graduate over 2,500 students within a single academic year. It is however instructive to note that, while this growth is a testament to the growing confidence reposed in our institution, it also places considerable demand on our infrastructure and facilities.

As a university deeply committed to providing a conducive environment for teaching and learning, our commitment is simple; we want to provide you with an environment in which you can learn, grow, discover your talents and prepare for the future.

GROWTH, INNOVATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE

At a time when many private universities are facing significant challenges, Wisconsin continues to grow in leaps and bounds, from the strength of our academic programmes and faculty to our infrastructure, student population and institutional reputation

Our commitment is simple, we want to provide you with an environment in which you can learn, grow, discover your talents and prepare for the future.

Construction has commenced on an eight storey multi-purpose block aimed at easing congestion in our classrooms. This comes on the back of a recently completed 200 bed multi storey hostel facility at the Kumasi campus which we understand is easing the challenge of accommodation for a lot of you.

These new projects add to our well stocked laboratories like Digital Forensics, Cybersecurity and Robotics and Artificial Intelligence Laboratory, the first of its kind in our sub-region. The School of Nursing and Midwifery state-of-the-art Skill laboratory and Anatomy Facility and the School of Communication Studies Radio Broadcasting Studio

EXCELLENCE AND RECOGNITION

The Wisconsin International University College continues to earn recognition for the strides we have been making in achieving quality education over the years, the latest of which is the awarding of our School of Nursing and Midwifery as the best nursing school in Ghana.

In the recent past our commitment to quality has brought us national and international recognition including:

- Best Private University in Ghana
- Outstanding Tertiary Institution in ICT and Digital Education
- And recipient of multiple awards for professional training, research, and development among others.

I am also glad to inform you that at the just ended Call to The Bar in October, 125 of our students were called to the bar, which is almost 10 % of the total number called nationwide. This is an achievement we are proud of and commend our new lawyers. It is our expectation that these will serve as motivation for you to achieve even higher.

Ladies and gentlemen, the impact of Wisconsin International University College, Ghana continues to be felt and recognized across the African continent. At a recent Africa Education Summit held here in Accra, which brought together stakeholders from over 50 African countries, our Chancellor, Dr. Paul Kofi Fynn, was honoured as one of Africa's 100 Most Impactful Education Personalities, a recognition which reflects not only his visionary leadership but also the collective efforts of the entire Wisconsin community.

Beyond the influence of our founder's vision and our commitment to training future-ready graduates who are transforming societies across Africa, Wisconsin's model is now being sought internationally. A high-powered delegation from Iringa University in Tanzania, were here a couple of months ago to explore the adoption of the Wisconsin model in strengthening the academic systems and programme delivery at the University of Iringa. This is another clear indication that the Wisconsin impact is transcending borders.

I am happy to inform you that we continue to strive in creating the necessary partnership that offers limitless opportunities to you in this increasing interconnected world. One of such opportunities is an ongoing collaboration with Riphah International University in Pakistan, a country noted for its academic exploits to set up a state-of-the-art Dental School right here at Wisconsin.

The University is also at the final stage of a collaboration with one of Canada's leading universities, the Trent university which will offer expanded academic and exchange opportunities for our students. These recognitions and awards are not by accident. They are the product of vision, discipline, and consistency over the past 26 years.

Our academic programmes continue to evolve in response to the demands of a rapidly changing global landscape. Following the successful introduction of new programmes, including Cybersecurity and Digital Forensics, Artificial Intelligence and Robotics, as well as some new postgraduate programmes in Nursing and Law, I am delighted to announce that the Business School and the faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences have rolled out a Bachelor of Science in Entrepreneurship and Innovation and Post Graduate diploma in Education, respectively. New programmes designed to serve as a catalyst for massive job creation and innovation among our youth.

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF NOVEMBER 2026

Dear Graduands, on behalf of the Board, Management, Faculty, and Staff of Wisconsin International University College, Ghana, I congratulate you, not only to you our graduands, but also your families, guardians and friends who stood by you throughout the journey.

The world you are entering is fast-changing, competitive, and sometimes uncertain. But it is also full of opportunity for those who are prepared, bold, and principled.
As you step out into the world, here is what I want you to carry forward:

1. Remember that your degree is not your destination, it is your starting point. In deed now comes the part where what you do with it matters more than how hard you worked to get here.

2. Carry the Wisconsin name with pride, but more importantly, carry the Wisconsin values of Integrity, Transparency, Accountability Teamwork, Collaboration and Partnership, Excellence in Service Delivery, Customer Satisfaction.

   Every time you act with integrity, solve a problem, and treat people well, you are impacting lives and you are impacting how the world sees your University College. Your name and your Wisconsin International University-Ghana's name are now linked and are intertwined. Make that link worth something very important to you.

3. Own your learning, forever
   The certificate ends here. However, your responsibility to learn does not. The fastest rising and well-paid people in the next 10 years would not be the ones with the most degrees. They will be the ones who can unlearn fast, relearn faster, and apply it before everyone else catches up. Therefore, you are urged to stay curious, read outside your field of study and ask better questions than the ones you are given.

4. Be useful before you are impressive
   It is tempting to chase titles and visibility right away. Please, resist it. Find the problem no one wants to touch and solve it well. People who get ahead for the long run are the ones who make themselves indispensable by doing work that actually moves things forward. Impress with output, not just with talk.

5. Protect your Name
   Your reputation is the only asset no one can give back to you once it is gone. You will face moments where a shortcut looks smart and silence looks safe.

   In those moments, choose the harder and cleaner path. One decision at a time, you will build a name that opens doors without you having to knock.

6. Build relationships, not just a network
   Network is just a list of contacts. But a relationship is trust. Invest in people who challenge you, who are honest with you, and who you would vouch for without hesitation. Your career will be shaped more by who believe in you than by who know your name.

7. Learn to work with people you did not choose
   In the real world, you will have to work with difficult bosses, slow partners, and colleagues who see things differently. The skill that will set you apart is the ability to collaborate, communicate, and deliver despite the challenges you encounter. That is leadership, even if you do not have the title yet.

8. Expect discomfort and do not quit because of it
   Note that if it feels easy, you are not growing. If it feels uncertain, you are in the right place.

   Dear Graduands, you are not graduating just to get a job. You are graduating to change the conditions that made that job necessary in the first place.

   Go, be the persons who make things work better, fairer, and faster for someone else. That is how you impact lives. Graduands of November 2026, go build, fix, and lead. And when you do, let us hear about it. We shall be proud of you.

   We believe in you. And we cannot wait to see the impact you will make in Ghana, across Africa, and around the world.

   May your journey ahead be filled with purpose, success, and fulfilment.
   Thank you, and God bless you all.

SCHOOL ANTHEM

STANZA 1
Wisconsin International University is calling!
We're calling Sons and Daughters to the Gate of Truth and Light:
The Home where Leaders are made in International Education to stand for Wisdom, Knowledge and Strength to serve a world in Love.

CHORUS:
Arise, Oh great Wisconsin 2x
A world in need is waiting
For the home where leaders are made
In International Education to
Stand for Wisdom, Knowledge and Strength
To serve a world in love.

STANZA 2

In harmony we seek for peace and freedom- truth and knowledge;
In service to our generation we forever stand;
To do the best that we can, as we would have the world to appreciate
The gift of education with the great Wisconsin touch!

CHORUS:
Arise, Oh great Wisconsin 2X
A world in need is waiting
For the home where leaders are made
in International Education to
Stand for Wisdom, Knowledge and Strength
To serve a world in love.

NATIONAL ANTHEM

God bless our homeland Ghana,
And make our nation great and strong,
Bold to defend forever
The cause of Freedom and of Right;
Fill our hearts with true humility,
Make us cherish, fearless honesty,
And help us to resist oppressors rule
With all our will and might for evermore.

Second stanza:
Hail to thy name, O Ghana,
To thee we make our solemn vow:
Steadfast to build together
A nation strong in Unity;
With our gifts of mind and strength of arm,
Whether night or day, in the midst of storm,
In every need , whate'er the call may be,
To serve thee, Ghana, now and evermore.
